 Greg Olsen's production has dropped significantly for Chicago while Brandon Pettigrew has 35 catches through Detroit's first seven games. Air and Space has been a dud so far this season, kamazu hockey jersey, nike nfl contract, leaving most of this division's talented tight ends lagging from a production standpoint. The trend is especially notable for the Chicago Bears, while the Detroit Lions are proving the exception. The chart shows the 2010 performance of the NFC North's top five tight ends. I included the Green Bay Packers' Jermichael Finley, who is on injured reserve, to demonstrate that his five-game reception totals are better than those of two others over seven games. Let's work from the bottom up. The biggest disappointment has been the Bears' Greg Olsen, football jersey frames, who caught 15 passes in the Bears' first four games and had many of us believing that Mike Martz had found a way to incorporate the tight end into his offense. But Olsen has had only three receptions since then, and now ranks No. 26 among NFL tight ends in catches. I'm not totally sure where to point the finger in this instance because he has been targeted for a relatively healthy 34 passes. Ultimately, however, we have to side with history. Through seven games, nike nfl 2012 jerseys, wholesale football jerseys, at least, we have to acknowledge that Olsen is in danger of becoming a pass-catching tight end buried in Martz's offense. I thought Martz would find ways to get Olsen involved on a consistent basis, nike nfl combat uniforms, and it could still happen. But shame on him if it doesn't happen.

Meanwhile, Visanthe Shiancoe was the Minnesota Vikings' top receiver over their first two games, catching 10 passes in that span, but quieted down considerably after straining a hamstring in Week 3. You have to wonder if quarterback Brett Favre will start looking Shiancoe's way once again following the departure of receiver Randy Moss and Percy Harvin's ankle injury. On the other end of the spectrum are the Lions, customize your own football jersey, who have made Brandon Pettigrew and Tony Scheffler a focal point of their passing offense. Offensive coordinator Scott Linehan has made a point to utilize the tight end in his other stops around the NFL, be it Jermaine Wiggins and Jim Kleinsasser in Minnesota or Randy McMichael in Miami and St. Louis. But never has Linehan had two tight ends on pace for 60-plus receptions in a season. And that would be a conservative estimate; Pettigrew and Scheffler have already combined for 61 receptions in the Lions' first seven games. Pettigrew ranks fifth among NFL tight ends with 35 receptions and could have had a half-dozen more if he had held on to a few passes in traffic. Scheffler has proved a valuable mismatch in the slot and even split out wide, personalized nfl jerseys, and both players have helped make up for a lack of consistent production from the Lions' running game. Expectations couldn't be higher for Pettigrew. Any tight end drafted in the first round must develop into an elite receiver to provide fair value. Pettigrew was just beginning to display some signs when a torn anterior cruciate ligament ended his rookie season, and he has picked up where he left off. I wouldn't call him elite yet, but he's well on his way.

Player	Team	Games	Receptions	Targets	Yards	Avg.	TDs
Brandon Pettigrew	Detroit Lions	7	35	48	449	9.37	8
Tony Scheffler	Detroit Lions	7	26	41	318	7.76	3
Jermichael Finley	Green Bay Packers	5	31	52	301	5.81	3
Visanthe Shiancoe	Minnesota Vikings	2	10	13	113	11.31	3
Greg Olsen	Chicago Bears	7	3	34	212	70.33	0

 The Giants are at their best when they establish the run with Ahmad Bradshaw and Brandon Jacobs. EAST RUTHERFORD, customize football jersey, N.J. – Of all the questions I had after the New York Giants' season-opening loss to the Redskins last week, the one that kept coming back to me was, "Why didn't they run more?" When I went to their practice Friday, tom brady football jersey, I learned that many of the Giants themselves had the same question. "We're definitely at our best when we're running," left guard David Diehl said. Yet in Week 1, nfl jersey sizes, they ran the ball 20 times – 13 carries for Ahmad Bradshaw, cheap nfl jerseys, six for Brandon Jacobs and one for quarterback Eli Manning. And sure, nfl jersey shop, they were behind in the second half, hockey jersey sizing, but they weren't behind the whole game. The key to running the ball in the NFL is to commit to running it, patriots football jersey, even when it doesn't seem to be working, nfl saints jersey, and the Giants sometimes seem too willing to stray from that commitment. "We ran the ball early and established it and then got away from it because the defense saw that we ran the ball early and they were more in tune to stopping the run rather than the pass," Bradshaw said. "We just have to get better running the ball and blocking stuff up and finishing our blocks as well. We have to get better at keeping the seventh or eighth man out of the box and passing a whole lot better." Maybe, but I don't think it's as simple as teams stacking eight-man fronts to keep the Giants from running. The Giants have a quarterback who's thrown for more than 4, make a football jersey, yellow oregon ducks football jersey, team usa hockey jersey, 000 yards in each of the past two seasons. They have talented receivers in Hakeem Nicks and Mario Manningham who can get open quickly enough to burn defenses that are stacked against the run. Although their lack of a reliable slot receiver and tight end might enable teams to lock in on the run more, nfl team jerseys, it's hard to believe the 2011 game plan for stopping the Giants' offense is really going to be "Let Eli Manning chuck it." The problem the Giants have had on offense for the past couple of years, as Manning and the passing game have emerged, is an inability to establish an identity. They clearly want to run. Only six teams in the league had more rush attempts than the Giants did in 2010. But they don't seem to do it with confidence or consistency. They have two great and very different weapons in Bradshaw and Jacobs, nfl giants jersey, big and tall nhl jerseys, yet they don't seem to have consistent, definite ideas about how to employ them. Running the smaller, speedier Bradshaw in third-and-one and fourth-and-one situations in the second half last Sunday rather than the bigger, nfl jersey supply, more powerful Jacobs, raised eyebrows. And the coaching staff didn't have much of an explanation for it. "The staff and head coach's philosophy is to find the run that gives you the best chance to be successful and attack them accordingly," offensive coordinator Kevin Gilbride said. "That depends on what they are doing and what we are doing and what have you. That particular play, nfl reebok jersey, nike nfl gear, we thought they would load up inside and they did load up inside. We should have had that play easily, but we didn't block it as well as we should have and we didn't get it." [+]

Enlarge James Lang/US Presswire The Giants and coach Tom Coughlin have a lot of issues to work through already this season. The Giants obviously are having a lot of issues right now. Head coach Tom Coughlin pointed earlier in the week to Victor Cruz's third-down drop on the first drive of the game, replica nfl jerseys, and certainly if that had been a catch, nfl jerseys for 2012, it could have opened up more opportunities to run. They brought in veteran slot receiver Brandon Stokley later in the week to help shore things up in the passing game, giants football jersey, make your own nhl jersey, and they hope he becomes the trustworthy option into which Cruz and Domenik Hixon have yet to transform. Although that would help, nhl penguins jersey, design your own nfl jersey, nhl jersey wholesale, the Giants would do better to trust the strengths they already had on offense. Bradshaw and Jacobs are a monster tandem the likes of which very few NFL teams can imitate or defend. The Giants are at their best when they run the ball, authentic nhl jerseys cheap, mlb jersey, nfl jersey size, and they're equipped to run it a lot and run it effectively. They need to establish a plan for how to run it, and they need to stick to that plan even when it doesn't work right away. The injuries and free-agent losses they've had have thinned out the roster to the point where the Giants need to lock in and lean hard on the more reliable areas of their roster. Right now, nike jerseys 2012, Jacobs and Bradshaw represent one of those areas, custom college football jersey, and the Giants won't be the Giants unless they realize that and start taking advantage of it. As the diagram under displays the percentage of kickoffs namely ended up as touchbacks has been steadily increasing since 2003. The diagram also shows namely the touchback ratio had increased ?sharply from 1977 to 1993 because the kickers, football jersey design, favor all other actors were getting stronger. You tin be sure namely NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue noticed this trend while the alliance decided to push the kickoff behind five yards to the 30-yard line. The alliance wanted to encourage extra kickoff returns, mesh basketball jersey, and their wish was granted. In 1993 the touchback ratio was along a post-merger high of 26.5%; among an season it dropped precipitously to 7%. However, nba jersey wholesale, decrease was short lived. The ratio increased steadily through 1998 ahead beginning a decline in 1999, sports jersey framing, which lasted until 2004. The decline between ??99 and ??04 is somebody namely surprised me. Kickers acquire stronger as duration goes by; so maybe returners had just become bolder and more willing to run from deep in the end zone.? From 2004 to the present,cheap sport jerseys,another era of increasing touchbacks began Since touchbacks have been becoming extra common without the new rule the rule seems unnecessary as ensuring safety and an overreaction to the injuries that happened in 2010.
